Meeting Details

Industry representative Kathy Sehnert from Monsanto will be speaking at the upcoming meeting on February fourth. Kathy has been involved in bringing Monsanto science and products to customers for more than three decades. She graduated from the University of Missouri with a degree in Biology and has enjoyed being a part of Monsanto's research projects ranging from early Roundup evaluations to developing hydraulic fluids for NASA.

Also, Keri Jacobs, a new addition to the Ag Econ department, will be giving a short presentation at the meeting. In addition, committee assignments will be announced. If you applied for a position, you are required to attend the upcoming meeting.

Don't forget that there is always a chance to win $100 at the meeting by playing the Wheel of Fortune game. Also, cash awards will be given out at the end of the semester for perfect spring semester attendance.
